

Letšeng Diamonds hold the Entrepreneurship and Business Management Skills training for community vets

As part of Letšeng Diamonds three year (2011-2013) Corporate Social Responsibility and Investment (CSRI) strategy twenty six community based animal health workers will be trained in entrepreneurship and business management skills in Mokhotlong from the 27 June to 1 July 2011. The course is a follow up to the animal health procedures training that was provided to the same group of farmers in May 2011.

The purpose of the training is to arm the community based animal health workers with the necessary knowledge and skills to run a successful, and profitable animal health operations to the farmers. The training is aimed to open their minds and deepen their appreciation to the possibilities of running the wool and mohair farming commercially.